Meet: Plukon Maasmechelen

Location: Maasmechelen, Belgium

About:

The Plukon Food Group is one of the biggest players in the European poultry market, supplying chicken products and ready meals to leading European food partners. With 18 sites spread across five countries and employing more than 5,000 people, we play a leading international role when it comes to translating customer needs into innovative products, formats and farming solutions.

What can I expect?

This job is Team work! Every employee starts as a chicken hanger:

The first week you need to learn how to hang chickens in the shackles: the operators will help you to get your skills up for chicken hanging and will tell you at which position you need to work.

This work is very dynamic and you don't need to forget that this job is Team work because the shackles can not be empty.

Description job

- You'll take the (alive) chickens from conveyors and hang them by their feet in the shackle conveyer.
- Oversees the automatic poultry killing process and cuts the neck for any bird missed by the machine.
- Control Trays for Chicken feet and left behind chicken
- Cleaning: Clean the workplace where people work so its always are clean
- Operator: as a operator you will train young people. Follows the line, as it always has to be full (without empty shackles)

You will be working in 2 shifts 04:00 till 12:00 and 12:00 till 20:00. Each week you change shifts.

"Plukon Maasmechelen is a professional company with lots of hygiene precautionary measures and a good introduction program.
