

Available vacancies:

- Δ Orderpicker
- Δ packing employee

Industry:

- Δ Logistics
- Δ Food

Coordinator:

- Δ Mayke

Meet: Fatrans Logistics BV.

Location: Venlo, The Netherlands

About:

With 10,000 m² of warehouse, Fatrans Logistics B.V. offers everything for storage, transshipment, cross docking, stock management and order picking activities, for food and food-related products. Every day, our people are busy sorting, order picking, repackaging, labelling and packaging, so that shipments are selected carefully and are ready in time for transport to the distribution centres of retailers both in the Netherlands and abroad.

Fatrans is part of the Fatels Food Group.

Description job

As a 'loodsmedewerker' you can work on two different departments: orderpick or packing. On the orderpick you will pick orders with a scanner and make the orders ready for delivery. On the packing department you repack (packed) cheese in boxes, according to the requirements of the customer

What can I expect?

A job in a logistics environment with packed food, cheese. The work environment is informal, no-nonsense. Worktimes are flexible. There are days that you finish early and you will have a free afternoon, but there are also days that you will have to work longer. Together with the team you make sure the products are daily ready for delivery. Usually the packing department starts at 8:00 AM and the orderpick at 7:00 AM. In the production hall work a lot of Polish people (almost everybody). Due to the fact that Fatrans has fresh cheese in stock, the temperature is low: between 2 and 6 degrees. At the first workday you will receive a warm jacket. Orderpickers work with a handscanner and EPT. For this function a valid EPT license is needed. The packing job is not heavy and suitable for men or ladies. Orderpickwork is heavier and better suitable for men. Fatrans Venlo is a small warehouse, part of the Fatels group.

“ If you search for a long term job, like to work flexible and in a close team, then you are at the right address at Fatrans. ”

Where does Fatels Food Group stand for?

Good food, good company, that's what it's all about with us. The Fatels Food Group consists of various food-related companies. All of them independent, but together unique. We are food professionals. We know what goes on from source to plate and offer unique solutions for that. Welcome in our world.

We supply big retailers, the processing industry and the food service market at home and abroad. Our specialists know about your world. They understand how crucial quality, speed and availability, are for your process and service.

The Fatels Way

Thinking fast and live up to what we promise. Down-to-earth, straight to the point and with little fuss.

Location

Venlo, The Netherlands

What can we offer you?

The accommodations are mainly typical Dutch cottages, which are a great alternative to the bungalows offered by other agencies. All the houses we offer are fully equipped with kitchen, bathroom, rooms and other utility rooms. We always try to make sure that the accommodation is as close as possible to the company you work. We do anything for your well-being!

We want to make sure you are feeling at home, that's why we offer you more than just work.

The housing in the area

